SUBJECT: EMERGENCY PROCUREMENT REQUEST FOR REPLACEMENT LAPTOP
– MOBILE APPLICATION DEVELOPER

Attachments: Quote

Justification

This is to request the emergency procurement of a replacement laptop for the Mobile Application Developer (Isaac Obela) whose current machine has completely failed and is no longer functional.

Isaac plays a critical role in the development, maintenance, and support of several high-priority institutional projects and systems, including:

- Dolphin
- NSSFGO
- Property Management Solution
- Support and maintenance of other existing production systems

The developer's responsibilities involve active participation in system design, application development, issue resolution, deployment support, and continuous enhancement of these platforms. These systems are business-critical and directly support service delivery, operational efficiency, and ongoing digital transformation initiatives within the organization.

The complete failure of the laptop has significantly impacted the developer's ability to execute assigned responsibilities and has introduced operational risks to ongoing project timelines and support activities. The absence of a functional development machine has the potential to:

- Delay delivery milestones for active projects

- Slow down issue resolution and support response times
- Affect coordination and integration work across project teams
- Interrupt development, testing, and deployment activities
- Impact continuity of support for production systems currently in use

Given the urgency and importance of the projects involved, immediate replacement of the laptop is necessary to restore productivity and ensure uninterrupted continuation of development and support operations.
